QUALITY PEOPLE. QUALITY PROJECTS.

2018-2019 Scholarship Recipients

Braden Wheeler

Brady is from Glenwood, Iowa and graduated from Iowa Western Community College before continuing at UNO in Construction Management. He was and is active in the AGC student chapters at both schools and he continues to work over 35 hours a week while going to school.

What led you to construction as a career?

My success in high school construction classes.

What are your career goals?

Project Manager or Foreman at a construction firm.

Harrison is from Omaha and is the AGC student chapter president at UNO, he is majoring in Construction Management. He is also an Eagle Scout.

What led you to construction as a career?

I have always loved construction, being outdoors, and watching heavy equipment work! I used to spend my summers taking picture of jobsites and equipment.

What are your career goals?

In five years, I would like to be a superintendent or an estimator.

Harrison Potrzeba

Donald Stalker

Don is from Omaha and is in his second quarter at Metropolitan Community College. He is president of the newly formed AGC student chapter. Prior to school he worked in homebuilding and has run a landscaping crew.

What led you to construction as a career?

Building will always be needed, there is always something new going on. I like starting from undisturbed soil and seeing something take shape and to completion.

What are your career goals?

Proving my skills and then working up into management.

Jacob is a junior majoring in Construction Management at UNK. He is president of the AGC student chapter there.

What led you to construction as a career?

I grew up helping my grandfather maintain his rental properties. In high school, I worked for my uncle's construction company.

What are your career goals?

Become a senior project engineer and earn my MBA.

Jacob Mumby

Cory Hladky

Cory is from Duncan, Nebraska; he is majoring in Construction Management at UNL and will graduate in May 2019. A favorite course this last year was Construction Safety Management.

What led you to construction as a career?

I have always been interested in construction, at a young age the only things on my Christmas list were tools and a toolbelt. In high school, my work as a laborer fortified my decision to enter the industry. Cory received a degree in Architectural Drafting before entering UNL.

What are your career goals?

Field engineer or superintendent.

Christian is a sophomore in Construction Management at UNL.

What led you to construction as a career?

I started UNL in the Architecture program but soon learned the I yearned to be a builder instead of a designer—someone who works with his hands and mind to direct a project from inception to completion. The whole idea excites me.

What are your career goals?

Long-term goal become a senior project manager—building schools and hospitals in the U.S. and foreign countries for the poor and needy.

Christian Foster

Jeramy Bartels

Jeramy is attending SCC in the Building Construction Technology program. He is from Grant, Nebraska and will graduate in December 2018.

What led you to construction as a career?

The shop classes I took in high school and my passion for building things led me to pursue a degree in the construction field.

What are your career goals?

I would like to earn an additional degree in Design and Drafting Technology and then work in commercial construction—eventually, as a superintendent.

Connor is enrolled in the Building Construction Technology program at SCC and will graduate in December 2018. He is from Ericson, Nebraska.

What led you to construction as a career?

Because you get to create so many different structures with your own two hands. Early on, helping a cousin remodel his house, I knew construction was for me!

What are your career goals?

Commercial construction jobsite superintendent.
