Program Speaker: Kevin Cannon, Director of Safety and Health, AGC of America, Arlington, VA
Kevin serves as the primary liaison for federal safety regulations, where he has developed strong relationships with OSHA staff.

Program: Part One will provide an update on recent regulatory changes and the "why" behind the changes; also, what is on the regulatory horizon and what factors trigger the changes; and lastly, Kevin will provide a brief "anatomy of how or why" a regulation change comes into process and into law. Part Two will answer the question, "What Makes a Good Safety Program Great?" Based on judges' comments from the AGC Construction Safety Excellence Awards, Kevin will breakdown and share the critical areas of a comprehensive safety management program and highlight practices and procedures contractors can start implementing to increase management commitment, employee involvement and safety innovation.

Cost for meeting: No Charge for Members—hosted by Nebraska Building Chapter Corporate Sponsors
$20 for Non-Members—payable at the door—cash, check or credit card.

Please register by Monday morning, December 5, 2016. I will be attending the—
